One of my mentors was a cousin by marriage who was a biophysicist, prominent too - he was terraforming Mars with NASA when he died. He and his wife Jane were founding professors at York University. Jane had travelled by bus to Idi Amin's Uganda to research her doctorate from the London School of Economics, proceeded to a law degree, and he ended his career as head of the Royal Society. God gave me my terrifying parents, but he also gave me Bob and Jane and I would fall on them periodically, sleep in his basement study, lined with tribal masks and a collection of the world's religious texts. He was a thorough-going atheist, but suspected they were hiding biophysicist-y secrets. I pointed out that atheism was a closed system which acted in opposition to the scientific method. We respected each other

Behind Jane's chair in the dining room was a bookcase filled with reference materials, and out they came to settle any argument.

Dinner lasted until 11 pm because we talked and talked. One night, someone suggested the legalization of all drugs, to the point where they would be available at a corner store at any time. Would that be a good thing? Yes, said Bob, emphatically, it would breed out addiction in humans, because they would all die Greeted with a despairing, “Oh Bob,” from his wife. And me. I suppose I was still utopian, still believed in the inherent good of man, that our entire impulse is to the good. I can be excused because our world then was one of undisturbed peace for 50 years.

Feels like another country, another world. Because the city that Jane’s and my paternal great grandparents founded, Vancouver, arriving when only 1,000 people lived here, is gone. Over 50 years, they and about five hundred other families welcomed hundreds of thousands, built the institutions, the water systems, the hospital, clear cut the neighborhoods, built the bridges, laid the sidewalks. Very little government. The city of Vancouver was built by serious Christians, who believed in, as first principle, service to others. They built the city to take in the dispossessed, to lift up humanity, to spread peace.

Today, this is how women are treated in Vancouver:

attacked on her doorstep

It is now a cesspit of crime, drugs, human trafficking, child sex and money laundering. We launder most of the drug money in North America. The city has been taken over by a consortium of cartels, Asian and Mexican, who own through their funding of a proliferation of social justice activist groups, members of the city council, the judiciary, as well as members of the provincial and federal government, particularly those in immigration who rubber stamp the papers of the worst criminals from across the Asian world. They are all here now. The pickings are just too good. You are next on their list.

The CCP funds the cultural marxists that created the hellscape of the city

In Canada, our sleepy political class just woke up to the fact that the CCP had infiltrated our government and they are making vain, lazy, attempts to show they are up to the task. They aren't. First of all, they don't understand it, they don't take on board just how much the CCP wants to dominate Canada, and the lengths to which they have bribed everyone they needed to bribe and compromise a long long time ago.

The public is told China is "interfering" and "must be stopped". But how are they "interfering"? They are interfering by exporting fentanyl and Asian crime gangs, which plan to infiltrate throughout America. How they are "interfering" is by destroying people, families, cities and economies, through wholesale criminal activity.

Because this is happening across Canada.

Canada Is Dying | OFFICIAL TRAILER

In the US, all CCP criticism is limited to the populist right. And called crazy. That's just how profoundly foolish our politicians are. They stumble around luxuriating in a peace that someday will just be ..... gone and they will wake up a wholly owned subsidiary of the CCP.

The CCP funds the social activist organizations who have shifted the criminal justice system, effectively destroying it. The city's streets are littered with the dying, half dressed, smeared with shit, needles still in their arms. This is allowed because our leadership wants to destroy the middle class. Do you know what losing a teenager to hard drugs does to a family? It destroys that family forever.

A father is killed outside Starbucks in broad daylight in a stranger attack. In one year, one year, stranger assaults - random violent attacks are up 35%, break-ins 68%, Robberies 21%, serious assault, 36%, and those are just the reported crimes. 25% of calls to police go unanswered. Everyone sensible carries some kind of weapon, illegal or not, it's simply too dangerous.

For Immediate Release
May 12, 2022

VANCOUVER, B.C. —Today, the Greater Vancouver Board of Trade is releasing the results of a survey of our member issues for the business community in the upcoming municipal elections this fall.

The survey found that more than two-thirds (68%) of respondents believe it has become harder to do business in the five years, with nearly the same number (67%) indicating that the possibility of business closing due to rising costs. According to the businesses surveyed, the top factors affecting businesses are: permitting, licensing and red tape (40%), housing (40%), crime (40%), public safety (44%), and taxes (35%).

The business community is calling on municipalities to take action to reduce the burden of these issues. "We need to increase the supply of a range of housing options, and take action to reduce the burden of these issues," said Bridgette Anderson, CEO of the Greater Vancouver Board of Trade. "We need to reduce the burden of these issues on businesses and the community, and we need to take action to reduce the burden of these issues on businesses and the community."

Other Key Findings

Businesses are concerned about the impact of rising costs on their ability to compete in the market. The survey found that 68% of respondents believe it has become harder to do business in the five years, with nearly the same number (67%) indicating that the possibility of business closing due to rising costs.

SAY CRIME IS TOP ISSUE

Women are robbed, raped and murdered on once peaceful streets. For decades even in the richest neighborhoods, no one locked their doors. Now houses are fortified because home invasions are common. No one is safe, not walking down the street. Any street. Murder used to be non-existent here, if at all accidents in a bar fight, located in one neighbourhood which is now a sewer. Now people are killed in daylight in front of hundreds of onlookers. Gunfire is common Forty criminals committed 6,300 crimes last year and they are still on the streets. In a stupendous act of cruelty and hate, the former mayor, Kennedy Stewart defunded the police budget by $5.7 million. How much contempt do our 'leaders' have for us? How stupid the CCP and the cartel heads must think we are, so innocent and fat we let them destroy a once great city.

The police are helpless in the face of it. They can investigate and arrest and the criminal is back on the streets, the same day. The judiciary is corrupted, almost all socialist, almost all compromised. Recruitment is down. No one wants to be a policeman now. It is suicide. Stewart called the police force, “racist”, despite 60% being people of color. There is no pro-active policy. Just let them die, let them kill. Bonnie Henry, the province’s health officer stated that if you are an alcoholic, you can have treatment. If you are a drug addict, there is none. Just die. Die faster. Take some rich people with you.

First legal injection site

Vancouver pioneered the first legal injection site, and recently we legalized all hard drugs. You can buy cocaine at a vending machine. A new business just received permission to manufacture legal cocaine. This would “erase stigma”, said the activists and the stupid-beyond-belief system agrees. We have the second biggest port on the west coast of North America and through it the Asian cartels, allowed by the CCP, import the compounds from China that make up fentanyl. The Americans have insisted over and over again that the CCP stop. It doesn't, it only increases. The chemicals to manufacture Fentanyl come into our port, is made up, and sent south to the States. Fentanyl is so addictive that despite the fact that we supply addicts with up to 40 Dilaudid a day, they sell those pills and buy fentanyl.

Thousands die every month, swept up like garbage and burnt to ash.

The Downtown East Side was founded by an American Marxist, Jim Green, who decided to make a place for the dispossessed and addicted, and over almost 40 years of effort did so. The addicted had their own banks, dentists, detox centres, mini-businesses and residences and before too long the neighborhood became a magnet for addicts all over the country, then the U.S., then the world. I visited one, designed by star architect Arthur Erickson which no matter how violent you were, you couldn't be kicked out. It was a sweet berth for an addict. It grew and grew and grew and the charitable in the city could hardly keep up. At one juncture the Catholic Church had 168 missions on the Downtown East Side. By 2004, the neighborhood was ringed by representatives of every drug cartel in the world. By 2008, Asian cartels had set up business in Vancouver and started methodically to take the city.

the cartels victims

Green shifted the boundaries of acceptable behaviour. Starting with curiosity, ending in death. Middle class parents I know lost their children to the DTES. It was a gradual erosion. Now the DTES demands no police walk their streets and their activities have spread through the entire city. I spent a day with Green. He hated us so much, that was what he wanted, hell everywhere. He hated the white middle class so much, he wanted vengeance. Vengeance he has.

Like every city in North America we had been colonized by hard core Marxist like Green, from the UK and US, starting in the 50's and peaking in the 80's. They insinuated themselves into the bureaucracy, schools, unions and universities, spreading hate of the host culture with every breath. They waited. And then, the opportunity arose. The War of the Woods.

In the 80's and 90's, greens effectively shut down the resource economy of the region. All the money from logging and mining paid for health care and education. That money vanished. The cartels saw opportunity, bought off the right government officials, including those in Immigration, and now, today, we are a massive hub of sex trafficking, child prostitution, organ harvesting, and of course, drug addiction.

This is the model they are going to follow in every city in the U.S. and Canada, all regions which allow their economies to be assaulted and ruined by green activists.

Crime, addiction and misery replaces resource use everywhere. Our citizens, lazy, disengaged, drugged to the gills by prosperity, its foundation built by Christian families who believed in service to others, allowed it to happen.

Thank you for covering this, I can tell how much work you put into it.

Soros is a primary front man for this destruction. He is buying up DAs and entire legislatures across America who then pass laws and enact policies legalizing or refusing to prosecute a myriad of crimes. Next they flood these communities with illegals from every hellhole imaginable, each of which have a thousand different axes to grind against the American people. Sheriff Bianco explains this, while sidestepping the NGOs, US government, and the UN at the heart of the decimation:

<https://bitchute.com/video/xvOgSIYAZUya> [5:47mins]

Plug this loathsome wretch (Soros) into the streets of Chicago and see how long he lasts in the city he helped bring to ruin before they send him back to the hell he crawled out of.

Here is more information on how we got here: <https://tritorch.com/soros> & <https://tritorch.com/degradation/SorosDAProsecutionDeclination>

Time is running out to salvage this situation. Here is a solution:

Thank you for speaking the Truth. Truth bears the seeds of great Reform; unlike Propaganda, Truth has a soul, and once spoken, spreads of its own accord...

bit it needs a Voice. You are that Voice.
