The planet should be ready for a disease even deadlier than Covid, the head of the World Health Organisation warned yesterday.

Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus told the World Health Assembly forum that the threat of another public health crisis could not be kicked 'down the road'.

He also claimed that, despite the darkest days of the pandemic being consigned to history, a doomsday Covid variant with the power to send the world back to square one could still spawn.

In Geneva, Switzerland, Dr Tedros said: 'The threat of another variant emerging that causes new surges of disease and death remains. And the threat of another pathogen emerging with even deadlier potential remains.'

He was speaking as the WHO unveiled a new global scheme to spot and track the most dangerous pathogens at an annual meeting of its 194 member states.

No specific diseases were named. But 'Disease X' — a place-holder given to a devastating pathogen not yet discovered — is on the UN agency's list of pressing threats.

Dr Tedros' comments come after the WHO earlier this month declared that Covid was no longer a public health emergency of international concern.

Instead, the virus is now considered an 'established and ongoing health issue'.

It marked a major step and came three years after a cluster of Chinese residents in the city of Wuhan came down with a mysterious illness in December 2019.

At the WHA's 76th meeting, the WHO launched the International Pathogen Surveillance Network (IPSN). It will give all nations access to genomic sequencing to identify and respond to emerging disease threats using genomics.

Genomics – the study of the genetic material found in a virus – helps scientists spot mutations that can make a pathogen more infectious or deadly.

Scientists can then develop treatments and vaccines that work against them, while nations can mount a timely response.

The IPSN will see researchers, governments, charitable foundations and the private sector work together to monitor bugs.

Dr Tedros said: 'We cannot kick this can down the road.

'When the next pandemic comes knocking – and it will – we must be ready to answer decisively, collectively and equitably.'

The WHO has identified nine priority diseases that pose the biggest risk to public health. They were deemed to be most risky due to a lack of treatments or their ability to cause a pandemic.

Covid is on the list, along with Crimean-Congo haemorrhagic fever, a disease transmitted by ticks which kills 30 per cent of those it hospitalises.

Ebola, which kills around half of those it infects, is another. It causes vomiting, diarrhoea, a rash, yellowing of the skin and eyes and bleeding from multiple orifices, including the eyes, ears and mouth.

Marburg, one of the deadliest pathogens ever discovered, with a case-fatality ratio of 88 per cent, is also a threat. It causes similar symptoms to Ebola.

Lassa fever, which is mild or causes no symptoms in 80 per cent of cases, kills around 1 to 3 per cent of those it infects. It is endemic in parts of West Africa but just 11 cases and one death have been recorded in the UK.

Middle East Respiratory Syndrome coronavirus (MERS) and Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) are also on the WHO's pandemic watch-list.

This graphic, from March 2020, showed the Covid pandemic in a visual timeline comparing it to history's most deadly pandemics. It shows the bubonic plague, also known as the Black Death, was the most lethal of all diseases, killing roughly 200million people in the 14th century. However, Covid is shown as killing 6,400 people at this point. The WHO estimates it has now killed 20million

MERS causes a fever and cough which can develop into pneumonia and breathing difficulties. It was first spotted in the Middle East in 2012 and kills around 35 per cent of those it infects.

SARS, first identified in China in 2003, was the first severe and infectious new disease this century, has a case fatality ratio of three per cent.

Nipah virus, first spotted in humans in 1998, causes a flu-like illness which can develop into breathing difficulties. It kills around three-quarters of those with confirmed infections.

The WHO is also concerned about Rift Valley fever, spread by infected animals and usually spotted in sub-Saharan Africa. It kills around one per cent of those infected.

Zika virus, another pathogen of concern, is mainly spread by mosquitos and is usually mild. Severe cases are rare, but it can cause complications for pregnant woman and babies.

The UN health agency has also warned about 'Disease X', reflecting the fact that the next pandemic could be caused by a pathogen currently unknown to cause human disease.

WHO officials are currently working on an updated list.

Now the WHO has been given the power to take control in a medical emergency of any UN including the UK, we see it preparing to do just that. Covid was planned and the UN's grab over not just the UK but all 194 UN Nations is complete, objective achieved, and now we see lining us up in order to exercise that power. We knew Boris and Co. were behaving oddly over Covid and this is why. Like Governments before them giving away our sovereignty to the EU, are now giving it away to the UN. Believe me, none of this is random, UN Agenda 2030 and reveal the global dystopian plan of those who occupy its corridors and the globalist who support will profit from this. Just because it is so unbelievably huge, does not make it any less real.

No there are really dangerous virus that are just a slight mutation away from something that wipe out our modern existence. For example if Marburg had a longer incubation period we'd huge trouble. In Canada, not being able to afford health insurance is seen as a valid reason for being put c MAID, assisted dying program. When they arrive by small boat, ask them if they can afford h insurance. If not, then they could be put on a new UK version of MAID. Better than Rwanda, cheaper and 100% effective. The boats would stop in days.

Remember folks, the WHO & WEF are pushing for countries to accept their recommendations for managing all fiscal & health matters as mandatory. These unelected, unaccountable scions that work solely for huge corporation interests are demanding that our leaders surrender the sovereign & democratic right to decide our futures! These agenda's are all progressing in the political background with most of the public unaware. Digital currency is almost guaranteed unless we stop, this will allow them to track every aspect of spending, set limits, control our spend etc.

	It's going to be really bad and designed so that those who refuse the jabs will be the first to die. Not because the 'new' jab will work wonders, but because the design of their new pathogen will kill off those who are sceptical about the jabs, making everyone rush to take the poison. The jabs, of course will kill everyone, but over a few years so the effect won't be so obvious. The added bonus for WHO is that this will make the jabbers feel smug and virtuous and at last they will feel they have been 'vindicated. They will sneer at all the 'stupid deniers' - until they die too but from something else that the jab has been designed to 'encourage' in their bodies.

'The threat of another variant emerging that causes new surges of disease and death remains. And the threat of another pathogen emerging with even deadlier potential remains.' say the WHO. Read between the lines; we were working on it in our Ukrainian Labs but have suffered a "setback" .....but don't worry we'll get it out to just as soon as we can with some half baked cover story about Bird flu mixing with Covid and producing a new virus ( Flying Covid?), that will be transmissible and lethal to humans...and that we've already got a "vaccine" for....

Man made in the Ukraine too, which is why they want Putin gone. He bombed a secret lab in Chernobyl (what a great place to put a secret lab - somewhere where the rest of us thought no one could enter) and years of gain of function on viruses was destroyed there. Apparently horrible experiments were taking place. No wonder the narrative is 'Putin bad' they are playing us like fiddles.

The next pandemic, for which the virus has already been created, is set for 2025. Supposedly the vaccine for it is almost ready. Ask the WEF, WHO and Bill Gates, they know all about it. Check out all the new lockable cabinets going into supermarkets and the new legislation powers being given to the WHO. Social credits, vaccine mandates, 24/7 tracking, facial recognition etc here we come. Everyone who has sat back idly and let this happen is responsible. What are we conspiracy theorists called now that EVERYTHING we said is true?

	And it's the top of the irony when the US or European politicians call you a conspiracy theorist when they are the ones who are always lying. Also what they call conspiracy theories are usually real crimes comited by them.

	So it was named Covid-19 due to the year of the outbreak... yet WHO released a list of 9 concerning diseases in 2018, of which Covid-19 was one... then in 2019 a "mysterious" virus occured in China... Someone's telling porkies. Or time travel has been invented.

	This is absolutely hilarious. Tedros was caught trying to cover up Cholera epidemics back in his homeland and you wouldn't trust him to tell you the time in a room full of clocks. Covid STILL hasn't been isolated or purified under the rules of Koch's postulate. They know there's another "virus" or illusion of a virus on its way as they are planning it. Some will be to cover up the effects of the so called vaccine, some will be to garner more state control and big brother impositions but perhaps most importantly (for them at least), as per Covid it will justify yet another huge transfer of wealth from the poor, working and middle classes to the elite. These people won't stop until they got the lot.
